

Guidance to achieve TES Priority 3: Boosting achievement of Māori and Pasifika

This Guidance to achieve TES Priority 3: Boosting achievement of Māori and Pasifika (the Guidance) provides further information to help you respond to the Tertiary Education Strategy (TES) Priority 3: Boosting achievement for Māori and Pasifika.

This Guidance is primarily for SAC funded providers: the University, ITP, and Wānanga subsectors, and only the largest PTEs (the Top 15) during this investment round. However, it's a resource for all providers and we encourage you to use it even if your organisation is exempt from submitting an Investment Plan this round. It is comprised of three sections:

Section 1: Māori and Pasifika Assessment Framework

We will use the Māori and Pasifika Assessment Framework (the Assessment Framework)¹ to evaluate your Plan's response to TES Priority 3. Section 1 of this Guidance is the Assessment Framework, for your information. The Assessment Framework and this Guidance are designed to work together. The Assessment Framework is for us to use and this Guidance is for you.

We also recognise that some of the indicators may not be applicable to your subsector, so please indicate in your Plans which ones do not apply and we will update the Assessment Framework accordingly, for future rounds. With this in mind, a dedicated framework and specific guidance (like this one) will be released for the ITO subsector ready to use during their next Investment round.

Section 2: Guidance

Section 2 provides guiding questions aimed at stimulating discussions within your organisation about your current delivery for Māori and Pasifika. It will help you to highlight things you are good at, and to identify points for improvement. It also encourages you to develop actions to strengthen identified gaps. You don't need to submit this as part of your Investment Plan, but it will help our engagements when we come to talk to you about your Māori and Pasifika learners.

Appendices: The Indicator Frameworks from Doing Better for Māori and Doing Better for Pasifika

We have drawn on our literature reviews, Doing Better for Māori in Tertiary Settings (2013) and Doing Better for Pasifika in Tertiary Settings (2014), to develop this Guidance and the Assessment Framework. These Reviews focus on key structural elements that enable Māori and Pasifika learners to succeed in tertiary settings. The Indicator Frameworks from the two literature reviews provide overviews of those elements and how they influence better outcomes for Māori and Pasifika learners. We've included these so you can see why we have chosen these particular indicators.

The full literature review, Doing Better for Māori in Tertiary Settings can be found here.

¹ The Māori and Pasifika Assessment Framework is not publicly available and is intended for internal use only.
